

Timeless elegance

Combining modern technology with classic design

This pool and landscape project was designed and built from concept to completion by Sean Lynch of Malibu Pools and Landscapes.

The featured pool is a breathtaking example of modern pool design partnered with a new-home construction. This Malibu pool and landscape package works with the stunning home, combining the latest in green pool technology with a classic pool and landscape design. The attention to detail in creating a pool area that is timeless is a unique aspect of designing with Malibu Pools and Landscapes.

The 10m-long x 2.5m-wide pool has 500mm play benches and formal steps into the pool. It stands out from the rest with a beautiful glass waterline tile interior. The use of the glass tile was selected from the Malibu Tiles range of interiors for an individual and eye-catching finish.

This lap pool has a quartz and pebble interior and uses the unique range of interiors only available from Malibu Pools. The addition of a quartz bead chip to the natural 1mm polished ocean pebble creates a finish that is both smooth to the touch and stunning to the eye.

All pool and water feature systems are operated using solar energy harvested from the solar panels on the roof of the house. This chemical-free freshwater pool is illuminated by energy-efficient LED lights for stunning night entertaining all year round. All pool and water feature systems are operated with the latest in remote-control energy-saving systems for easy operation.

The natural bush setting of this Brisbane home necessitated the Malibu team to work with the clients to source some local natural stone that was to be used in the building of the pool coping and surrounds. By using this Travertine marble stone, a seamless flow was created between the existing stone areas of the home and the new stone parts of the pool. This elegant entertaining area will keep this space in a timeless style all of its own for many years to come.

A classic feature wall creates an eye-catching backdrop to the pool. The wall was designed to bring the water flow towards the house, while using the same natural feature stone as was used around the pool to create a seamless flow of materials inside and out.

Malibu Pools and Landscapes specialises in designing and building quality outdoor lifestyle spaces through creative design, attention to detail, award-winning construction and professional project management.

The initial meeting with Sean Lynch at Malibu Pools and Landscapes allows the clients to outline their ideas for their project and ask questions. From this meeting, 3D concept designs are created including all aspects of the design, as well as materials and finishes. All Malibu Pools' clients are provided with 3D concept designs and an itemised construction proposal that details the complete scope of works and all of the costs involved.
